

Written and composed by Adam and Jessica Kelly

Upon a star

Virgin's kiss, heaven's bliss you touched
Deep within laughter's grin awoke me
You took this wounded heart of mine and made it new
I bless the ground under your shoes

In the night you shined your light
And found me as I lay
Cold and sad inside my bed
Fighting of the day

You're always welcome where I hide
Upon a star
You came with kisses when I cried

Faithful tears through the years you watched me
When I looked you mistook my meaning
But flowers always bloom in spring
And I was there
With me that precious spring you shared

I was lost you found me tossed
Out on a desperate beach
In your eyes you saw me wise
The tempest you did teach
