

Written and composed by Adam and Jessica Kelly

You're a fire

When you sing of life with hope
All of a sudden you're a fire
When you're walking across a rope
People will scream in fear of fire

Lighting up the sky
Burning ever higher
Uh, uh, uh, uh, uh, uh
Oh, oh, oh, you 're a fire

Go on and dance and watch the crowd
You will amaze them with a fire
Go out and speak of the truth out loud
And you'll create a massive fire

In this enlightened state of mind
I feel like you can build a fire
Pick up the pieces, go out and find
A place where you can start a fire
